V1	31/10/2023	Compulsory elements for white labelling and label customization	Fanny WATERLOT	Lucas BELDI

Regarding the legislation the company applying its trademark on the label of the product is considered as the manufacturer and thus has the responsibility for conformity.

When affixing markings such as CE or UKCA, or affixing FCC or IC number, the company marketing the product takes full responsibility for conformity with the requirements of the relevant legislation. The company applying its trademark has to demonstrate that the product is compliant to technical and security requirements applicable to the product by performing tests or providing tests reports, specification reports, declaration of conformity and providing any other technical documents applicable to the product if any.

2. CUSTOMIZABLE INFORMATION

If you have ordered the custom label service, you can personalize certain elements of your product's label. However, certain information must appear on your label. For more information about legal regulation by country, please refer to the Custom Label Regulation Guide.
